SYDNEY CHILDRENS HOSPITAL SCHOOL

E-Technology: Acceptable usage for School Students

This document defines the policy for school students of the Sydney Childrens Hospital School (SCHS) for the appropriate and acceptable use of e-technology. This policy encompasses e-technology either provided by SCHS or brought to SCHS under the DEC Bring Your Own Device (BYOD) policy both at school and during school service on the ward.

1. Objectives- Policy statement
The e-technology provides an opportunity to enhance students’ learning experiences by providing access to vast amounts of information across the globe. E-technology and online communication links students to provide a collaborative learning environment and is intended to assist with learning outcomes. The inclusion of technology in the classroom supports the curriculum content and encourages higher order thinking.

Students at Sydney Children’s Hospital School are able to use both school devices in conjunction with their own devices to access content provided by both staff at SCHS and staff from their census school. This policy outlines the expectations of students when using e-technology whilst engaging with education on the ward and in the classroom at SCHS.

Responsible use of e-technology by students, with guidance from teaching staff, will provide a secure and safe learning environment. The use of the internet and online communication services provided by the NSW Department of Education and Communities (DEC) is intended for research, learning and communication between students and staff. Access to internet and online communication tools at SCHS will assist students to develop the information and communication skills necessary to use the Internet effectively and appropriately.

Students at SCHS who use e-technology must abide by the Department’s conditions of acceptable usage and SCHS’ acceptable use policy. Students at SCHS will be asked to sign the acceptable use policy agreement before being permitted to use e-technology both at school and during school services on the ward.

Students should be aware that a breach of this policy may result in disciplinary action in line with the SCHS discipline policy and this acceptable use of e-technology policy.

1. Audience and applicability
This policy applies to all students attending SCHS in both wards and classrooms who access e-technology either provide by SCHS, or brought to SCHS under the DEC BYOD policy.
